

STeLI

London Deanery

Simulation and Technology-enhanced Learning Initiative

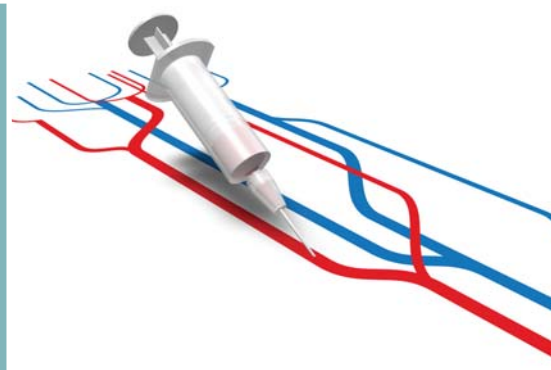

Patient-Safe Training – 21st Century Solutions

London Deanery's Simulation
Conference – Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists

March 31, 2009

www.steli.londondeanery.ac.uk

WORLD-CLASS EDUCATION FOR WORLD-CLASS HEALTHCARE

STeLI

Simulation and Technology-enhanced Learning Initiative

- A world-leading investment – The Simulation and Technology-enhanced Learning Initiative
- Part of the 'Excellence in Education' strategy of NHS London and the London Deanery
- Innovative, interactive, patient-safe individual and team-based clinical education
- Developing a healthcare workforce with high level insight into performance critical professional practice

Patient-Safe Training – 21st Century Solutions

London Deanery's Simulation Conference – Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists

March 31, 2009

08:45 Registration opens – refreshments served in the Schering Suite

SESSION ONE: Simulation and Technology-enhanced Learning Initiative Plenary Session in the Lecture Theatre

Chaired by Professor Elisabeth Paice, Dean Director, London Deanery

09:30 Welcome and opening
Professor Elisabeth Paice

09:35 World-Class Education for World-Class Healthcare
Ruth Carnall CBE, Chief Executive, NHS London

09:45 'Excellence in Education' – Delivering Patient-Safe Training
Dr Ian Curran, Associate Dean and Lead for STeLL, London Deanery

10:05 'Excellence in Education' Innovation Awards presentation and citations

10:15 Distributed and Contextualised Surgical Simulation
Dr Roger Kneebone, Reader in Surgical Education, Imperial College London

10:35 Panel discussion

10:45 Morning coffee in the Schering Suite and exhibition in the Lower Atrium

11:00 Reality, Realism and Fidelity: Key Principles in Simulation
Dr Peter Dieckmann, Vice-President Society in Europe for Simulation Applied to Medicine

11:20 Learning Transfer and Transformation
Dr David Guile, Institute of Education

Patient-Safe Training – 21st Century Solutions

London Deanery's Simulation Conference – Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists

March 31, 2009

11:40

MORNING WORKSHOP SESSIONS

Delegates must choose in advance ONE of the following options.

Workshop 1:

Scenario Design and Conduction

Dr Peter Dieckmann

Workshop 2:

London School of Paediatrics – a case study in implementing STeLL 'Excellence in Education' Plans

South Thames Retrieval Service & Paediatric Intensive Care Unit

Workshop 3:

Crisis Resource Management & Non-Technical Team-based Training

Dr Simon Edgar, Scottish Clinical Simulation Centre, Stirling

Workshop 4:

How to Get Learner Engagement

Role Call

Workshop 5:

Distributed Simulation: Widening Access

Dr Roger Kneebone and team from Imperial College London

12:40

Lunch in Schering Suite and exhibition in the Lower Atrium

SESSION TWO:

e-Learning with Medical Education in the Lecture Theatre

Chaired by Dr Judith Stanton, Associate Dean, London Deanery

13:40

e-Learning for Healthcare: High Quality National Content

Dr Julia Moore OBE, National Director of e-Learning for Healthcare

14:00

Connecting for Health

Dr Simon Eccles, Medical Director, Connecting for Health

14:20

e-Learning Communities: Ownership, Governance, Access and Options

Michael Begg, e-Learning Manager, University of Edinburgh

14:40

Panel discussion

Patient-Safe Training – 21st Century Solutions

London Deanery's Simulation Conference – Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists

March 31, 2009

14:45	AFTERNOON WORKSHOP SESSIONS Delegates choose in advance ONE of the following options
Workshop 1:	London School of Paediatrics – a case study in implementing STeLI 'Excellence in Education' Plans Claudine De Munter, Consultant in PICU, Imperial College London
Workshop 2:	Crisis Resource Management Non-Technical Team-based Training Skills Dr Simon Edgar Reprise of morning session
Workshop 3:	Bringing Crisis Resource Management to Life – Interactive Learning on Interaction Dr Peter Dieckmann
Workshop 4:	Behaviour Observation Role Call
Workshop 5:	Hybrid Simulation and the Assessment of Procedural Skills Dr Roger Kneebone and team

SESSION THREE: The Incorporation of Simulation-based Training into Postgraduate Training in the Lecture Theatre

Chaired by Dr Ian Curran

15:45	Patient-Safe Training – 21st Century Solutions
15:50	The London School of Paediatrics STeLI 'Excellence in Education' Plan Mando Watson, Consultant Paediatrician, Imperial College London & Training Programme Director, School of Paediatrics, London Deanery
16:05	Learning Hospital Professor Aidan Halligan, Director of Education University College London Hospitals
16:25	Closing Remarks Professor Elisabeth Paice

16:30 Conference closes

